Objectives

- Educate judges and juries about the latest tactics defendants use to intimidate witnesses.
- Protect witnesses throughout the course of a case including investigation, discovery, and trial.
- File and argue compelling motions to admit the statements of witnesses unavailable for trial.
What is witness intimidation?
Anything done with the intention or purpose of preventing or altering a witness’s testimony or report to law enforcement, or to retaliate against a witness for such testimony or report.

Intimidation

Who?
What?
When?
Where?
How?
Why?
Most explicit acts of intimidation take place where police exert little control: at the witness’s home, school or work; or while the witness is running errands or socializing.

But witnesses also report being intimidated at the crime scene, while at the police station making a statement and while in the courthouse waiting to testify. Some report being intimidated while on the witness stand

The Most Dangerous Time

• Most dangerous: between arrest and trial
• Second most dangerous: during the trial itself

“Only unsuccessful intimidation ever came to the attention of police or prosecutors.”

Challenges

- Educate victims
- Preserve evidence of intimidation
- Charge intimidation crimes
- Use evidence of intimidation effectively
- Reduce opportunities to intimidate
Strategy

Identify and Document Nontestimonial Statements
“In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right...to be confronted with the witnesses against him...”

U.S. CONST. amend. VI, Confrontation Clause
WHAT IS “TESTIMONIAL”?

Generally more formal or made to law enforcement or their agents

Primary purpose is to report facts for later prosecution
Testimonial Hearsay
Crawford, 541 U.S. 36

Admissible ONLY where:

• Declarant is available for cross-examination at trial, OR

• Prosecution shows that the declarant is unavailable AND defense had prior opportunity to cross-examine, OR

• Forfeiture by Wrongdoing
WHAT IS “NON-TESTIMONIAL”?

- Statements during ongoing emergency
  - 911 calls
  - To law enforcement to meet emergency
- For purpose of medical treatment
- Business records (not prepared for litigation purposes)
- Casual remarks to others
Non-testimonial Hearsay

• Sixth Amendment Confrontation Clause does not come into play

• Admissibility depends solely on jurisdiction’s hearsay rules
To whom might the witness have spoken or confided?

- Friends
- Family
- Employer / co-workers
- Landlord
- Neighbors
- Professionals (medical or others)
Federal Rule of Evidence 803(b)(4)

Statement Made for Medical Diagnosis or Treatment.

A statement that:

(A) is made for--and is reasonably pertinent to--medical diagnosis or treatment; and

(B) describes medical history; past or present symptoms or sensations; their inception; or their general cause.
Medical Treatment
State v Koederitz, 166 So. 3d 981, 986 (La. 2015)

“These statements are non-hearsay as a matter of La.C.Cr.P. art. 803(4) and are therefore admissible as substantive evidence because they were made for purposes of diagnosis and treatment, essential components under current medical practice in cases of domestic violence, and not as part of a forensic examination intended for use at trial.”
"We agree with the State and the trial court that a sexual assault victim's statement describing the assault may be admissible under Rule 5-803(b)(4), even though it was taken and given for dual medical and forensic purposes."
Officers, victim advocates, and prosecutors can ask:

“Have you talked to anyone else about this incident, either before or after you spoke to the police?”

Document evidence of an ongoing emergency
Strategy: Charge intimidation crimes and join with principal charge

- Public Intimidation and Retaliation
- Intimidating, impeding, or injuring witnesses
- Suborning Perjury
- Obstruction of Justice
Protection of Witness Identity

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the district attorney or the defendant may delete or excise from any information required to be disclosed herein any information which identifies a witness if such party believes the witness's safety may be compromised by the disclosure.
Redacted Discovery

State v. Le, 165 So.3d 242 (La.App. 4 Cir. 2015)

• Ex parte hearing
• State must disclose reasons why information should be redacted
• Record of proceedings and unredacted documents kept under seal
• Reviewable by supervisory writ application to an appellate court
Defendant has failed to show any prejudice from the procedure employed. His counsel had access to all discovery materials and was allowed to show the materials to Defendant and to discuss them with Defendant in preparation for trial.
Strategy

Preserve Testimony with Opportunity for Cross-Examination
Prior Opportunity for Cross

• Prior trial testimony
• Preliminary hearing testimony, provided opportunity for cross is sufficient
• Deposition, under rules permitting
• Grand jury proceedings do NOT afford opportunity for cross
Preliminary Hearing

• Foster a “full and fair opportunity” for cross-examination
• Fight defense attempts to waive
• Pass discovery before hearing
• Allow short adjournments if necessary to allow defense reasonable opportunity to prepare
• Refrain from objections to extent possible
Strategy

Forfeiture by Wrongdoing
Concept

- Defendant has the right to confront witnesses against him/her
- Right can be forfeited if the witness cannot be confronted due to the defendant’s intentional wrongdoing
Victim unavailable

Due to defendant’s wrongdoing

Intending that result

Admission of Victim's Statements
Forfeiture by Wrongdoing
Federal Rule of Evidence 804(b)(6)

A statement offered against a party that wrongfully caused--or acquiesced in wrongfully causing--the declarant's unavailability as a witness, and did so intending that result.
Valuable Tool

• Applies to any potential witness who is “unavailable”
• Opens the door to any hearsay
  • Testimonial
  • Nontestimonial
Giles v. California
554 U.S. 353 (2008)

• Domestic violence related homicide: defendant shot ex-girlfriend
• Claimed self-defense
• 3 weeks prior → domestic violence callout
  • Victim crying
  • Made statements about being assaulted, strangled, threatened with knife
• Statements allowed under FBW based upon intentional act of killing
• Defendant convicted of 1st Degree Murder
Case remanded:

- Not enough evidence that victim was made unavailable due to intentional act of defendant
- Defendant had to have specific intent to make victim unavailable as a witness when committing the wrongdoing
History of Relationship

“Earlier abuse, or threats of abuse, intended to dissuade the victim from resorting to outside help would be highly relevant to this inquiry, as would evidence of ongoing criminal proceedings at which the victim would have been expected to testify.”

Giles, 554 U.S. at 376
Unavailability

• State must show efforts to produce witness were both reasonable and made in good faith

Barber v. Page, 390 U.S. 719 (1968)

• “The lengths to which the prosecution must go to produce a witness . . . is a question of reasonableness.”

Unavailability

Is a witness who is present, testifies, and recants considered unavailable?
People v. Nelson

"'Unavailability' in this context is not limited to a witness's outright refusal to testify or physical absence from the proceedings; a witness is practically or effectively unavailable where the witness recants his or her initial statements or otherwise changes his or her version of the events as a result of misconduct on the part of the defendant."
To deem a testifying, but recanting witness ‘available’ for Confrontation Clause purposes, as defendant suggests, would provide witness tamperers with an incentive to induce witnesses to recant rather than to refrain from testifying at all.
Strategy

Pretrial Motion Practice
Admit Evidence; Protect the Record

• Motions to admit non-testimonial hearsay
• Motions to admit evidence under forfeiture by wrongdoing
• Litigate Forfeiture by Wrongdoing motions
  • “Forfeiture file” for any witnesses vulnerable to intimidation
  • Prior to trial; during trial when necessary
Going Forward

- Recognize and address acts of intimidation
- Support victims to enhance their ability to participate at trial
- Document non-testimonial statements admissible under hearsay exception
- Preserve testimony with opportunity for cross-examination
- Litigate motion to admit evidence under forfeiture by wrongdoing
